Section 3: Child and Family Description

Mariama started school very late due to lack of support from the parents. Her Father is a primary school teacher struggling to make ends meet for the family of six. A teacher in the Gambia of that category has an average monthly income of about 75 Pounds.. This is barely not enough to feed the family and provide them with quality education and adequate protection for the children. Therefore, Mariama needs support in the form of sponsorship to be able to develop and grow up her full potential
